

Hundreds attend Grand Falls Frost Day

Sliding down a huge snow mound located in back of the E. and P. Sénéchal Centre proved to be very popular with kids. Whether it was with a sled or by the seat of their snow pants, it was one of the many activities held during Frost Day on Saturday. MADELEINE LECLERC PHOTO

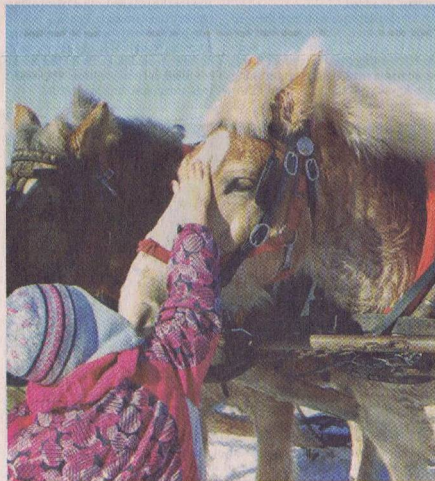

Maxim Pelletier and Corey Laforest enjoy their visit to the antique snowmobile exhibition, one of the many activities held during Frost Day in Grand Falls on Saturday. They are seated on an antique Bolens Red Diablo snowmobile at the E. and P. Sénéchal Centre. MADELEINE LECLERC PHOTO

Beautiful weather helped to make Frost Day a success on Saturday. Many participants took advantage of the horse-drawn sleigh to enjoy a ride on a snow trail located behind the E. and P. Sénéchal Centre. MADELEINE LECLERC PHOTO

Bernard Levesque, organizer of the antique snowmobile exhibition, arrives with his snowmobile after going on a short run with other participants during Frost Day held on Saturday in Grand Falls. The antique snowmobiles attracted many visitors. MADELEINE LECLERC PHOTO

A young participant in Grand Falls' Frost Day activities on Saturday pats the forehead of one of the horses pulling a sleigh. MADELEINE LECLERC PHOTO

Youngsters have fun on the fire hydrant snow sculpture created by the Grand Falls Fire Department on Broadway Boulevard during Frost Day held on Saturday. MADELEINE LECLERC PHOTO

Hundreds attended Frost Day on Saturday, both in downtown Grand Falls where visitors admired the work and talent needed to create various snow sculptures on Broadway Boulevard, and at the E. and P. Sénéchal Centre where various competitions and other activities were held. Left to right: Annie and Grace Ouellette, Kate and Hélène Bard, Sophie Gendreau, Isaac Deschênes and Catherine St-Amand. MADELEINE LECLERC PHOTO